The Iron Bowl

Last Saturday was one to remember when Number 1 Alabama met Number 4 Auburn. The game was a back and forth battle with Auburn scoring first and soon after Alabama . The game was going to its final quarter with the score 21-21. Just when Auburn thought they were getting Alabama trapped at its own one yard line quarterback A.J Macaron threw a short pass to his wide receiver

Amari Cooper who took it 99 yards for the touchdown and gave Alabama the lead. Then the madness started After a few missed field goals by the Alabama's kicker Auburn got the ball back with 2:00 left it looked like Alabama was going to win again and go to the BCS championship yet again. But then Auburn was making a drive and it looked like just an ordinary run play when suddenly Auburn quarterback Nick Marshall threw a touchdown with 32 seconds left on the clock. So then Alabama got the ball back and was making a drive but then the clock ran out. But Alabama challenged it and there was a second on the clock. So Alabama was going for a field goal attempt. It looked like it was good but It was just short and Chris Davis was going to get a chance to return it and a good one to because there was only lineman on the field and Chris Davis did the impossible and returned it over 100 yards.

Prince in Texas?

"When I got called up, I felt like I was home." - Prince Fielder

Prince Fielder, the 9 year veteran, was traded to the Texas Rangers Friday, November 22 for Ian Kinsler, the 8 year veteran. Prince Fielder has always been a power hitter, averaging around 32 homeruns per season, but will the Rangers make up for Ian Kinsler's great speed and defense. In 2007, Prince Fielder had a blow out season with 50 homeruns and 119 runs batted in for the Milwaukee Brewers. In 2011-2012 season, Prince got traded to the Detroit Tigers and produced a dynamic duo with Miguel Cabrera.

Ian Kinsler in Detroit

Ian Kinsler played in Texas for 8 years. From 2006-2013 he has been a great help to his speed, defense and his hitting. You would not think he is much of a power hitter but he produced 32 homeruns in 2011 when they appeared in the World series and lost to the San Francisco Giants. I personally think that Ian Kinsler will be a great addition to the Tigers and I would expect the Tigers to be a top team in the 2014-2015 season but the question is can Ian Kinsler become more destructive with Miguel Cabrera then Prince Fielder was?

From Bad to Bowl Game

Auburn Tigers

The Auburn Tigers are going back to a bowl game after last year going 3-9 and getting shutout twice. Lead by they're dual threat QB Nick Marshall. With 1500 passing yards and 830 rushing yards and by they're RB Tre Mason with more yards than he had last year.

Done By: Preston Serra
Maryland Terrapins

The Maryland Terrapins finally are going to a bowl after going two straight seasons without a bowl game. In 2011 they went 2-10 but this year its different. Since they are having a great season they got 4 four stars recruits for 2014 including one from the espn 300.

Stepping Up

Miami Heat Bench

The Miami Heat bench has improved from two years ago when their best player off the bench was Mike Bibby. This year is different because they have brought back a player that helped them a lot named Michael Beasley. Averaging 10.3 points and 2.9 rebounds in close to 20 minutes. Along with Beasley is another player who has done better this season. Ray Allen scoring 11.1 points and 3.1 boards even in his 17th season he still can score. The Heat bench have brought the heat back into the game and have closed the game out to.

Portland Trail Blazers

The Portland Trail Blazers went from 11th in the league last year in the west to 2nd in the west. Led by the 6-10 power forward LaMarcus Aldridge with 22 points and 9.9 rebounds close to a double-double each and every game. With wins over the 16-2 Indiana Pacers and the Golden State Warriors. Portland could be a real powerhouse in the playoffs with their incredible start.
