

What is the Healthy Kids Act?

The Healthy Kids Act was signed into law by Iowa Governor Culver on May 13, 2008.

Specifically, the Healthy Kids Act:

- Established nutritional content standards for food and beverages sold or provided on school grounds during the school day.
Effective July 1, 2010.
- Requires school districts and accredited non-public schools to ensure every student in grades K-5 has 30 minutes per day of physical activity and every student in grades 6-12 has 120 minutes per week of physical activity.
Effective July 1, 2009.
- Requires every student to complete a course that leads to certification in cardiopulmonary resuscitation (CPR) by the end of grade 12.
Effective for the class of 2011-2012.
- Requires Iowa's Area Education Agencies (AEAs), or a consortium of two or more AEAs, to contract with a licensed dietitian.
Effective July 1, 2009.

Why was the Healthy Kids Act developed?

The number of youth who are overweight in Iowa now appears to outpace national rates, putting our students at an increased risk for chronic diseases. In addition to preventing overweight and obesity among children, this act was created to:

- Help children develop healthy eating habits.

Schools have a responsibility to create an environment that supports and encourages healthy eating. The Healthy Kids Act Nutritional Content Standards will maximize the availability of high nutrient dense foods while also helping students develop healthy eating habits.

- Promote active lifestyles.

Current research makes it clear regular physical activity can help increase students' capacity for learning and improve academic performance. Additionally, physical activity has numerous health benefits, including improving muscular strength and endurance as well as reducing the risk for chronic disease.

- Provide students with a solid foundation for a better future.

Positive experiences with nutrition and physical activity help lay the foundation for maintaining those habits later in life.

What are the Nutritional Content Standards?

Vending, a la carte, and regulated fundraising items (any foods/beverages sold to students between the first bell and the last bell) sold to students during the school day must meet the following requirements, effective July 1, 2010:
