Class History

It was a glad old day for C. H. S. when the class of '27 entered its doors. We, being rather green, were the first to come from the new Junior High School, but as sophomores we began to develop the most accomplished class that has ever left the doors of C. H. S. We were represented in everything: football, basketball, track, debate—but that is getting ahead of our story. We must start at the beginning, therefore, we shall. While sophomores we were well represented in football, although none from our ranks made the first team; those who were out, showed signs of becoming great players. In basketball we also had men out who showed great possibilities; in track several of our men showed possibilities. Our sophomore year ended without great mishap and we adjourned.

We returned in September to resume our duties again as students. We were now Juniors; therefore, we had the privilege of calling the new entries "freshie," much to our delight and their displeasure. It was in our Junior year that we made old C. H. S. realize our presence. We opened up with a bang, our first big success being the play, "Why Smith Left Home," a roaring comedy which showed that in no way was the dramatic talent of the class of '27 lacking. In football five of eleven regulars were from our ranks. Two of these, Ray Miller and Chet Benefiel, were honored by places on the all valley team. Chet being named Captain. In basketball we shone again; three of the Coffeyville five, were from our ranks. Chet Benefiel was again chosen Captain of the all valley five, and Ray Miller was named the best all around player in the valley.

Dramatics and athletics were not the only fields in which we came to the front. Two girls, Olivene Slater and Wilda Wilkins, represented the high school in the state debate. Nineteen Twenty-Six, however, soon came to a close. After adjournment a grand and glorious feeling—Seniors. We were now the high and mighty potentates of C. H. S. To begin with we chose our class officers; the ever glorious Chet Benefiel being elected president. To him was given the privilege of piloting the class of '27 through its last year of learning.

As Sophomores we were necessary to the life of the school; as Juniors we were important, but as Seniors we became the backbone and sinew of our school. On the football team, seven of the regulars were seniors; this team won the V. V. L. Championship and tied for first place in the Big Seven. There could have been no basketball team without us. Four persons, Mae Gillispie, Harrison Casey, Curtis Ball and Viola Byers represented the school in debate, the school team being defeated only by the State Champions from Chanute.

The Senior Play, "The Importance of Being Earnest," was the last of the four years activities of the class of '27.

In closing our little history, we wish to thank all our pedagogues for their hard work and kindness during our stay in C. H. S.; without them we could not have become the great and mighty class we are. We also wish to give a little encouragement to the under classmen who we hope will follow our example, as we have always been a hundred percent for a bigger, better C. H. S.

Class History

To one hundred sixty-five students, who now call themselves Juniors, September 10, 1925 stands out very vividly in their memory, for this is the day on which they made their appearance in Washington Senior High School. They, being sophomores, were of course thought by their upper class-men to be very meek, insignificant individuals, who were to be merely green ornaments in the balcony of the auditorium. However, the upper class-men soon realized that the sophs were there for something besides furnishing entertainment for them.

In the regular class elections, the juniors showed unusual judgment in the selection of the following officers: Wendell Koerner, president; Margaret Koehne, vice-president; William Mitchell, secretary; Forrest Jamison, treasurer, and Miss Glasser, class sponsor. Under the guidance of these leaders, the sophomores have proved to be one of the most enthusiastic classes in the history of the school.

The first social event was a weiner roast held west of town on November 10, which was very successful.

The sophomores were represented in every phase of school life. The class contributed Wendell Koerner, Clement Hall, Mark Lane, and Albert Robertson to the school debate team. One of the members of the class took an active part in football. Five showed remarkable ability in basketball, and also in track.

This class won the Purple "C" stunt Contest, and due to their enthusiasm, hard work, and class loyalty, they were victorious in the 1926 annual sale, thus electing two of their members king and queen of the Purple "C."

In the fall of '26 this class entered the high school as juniors. With another group of able officers and the same sponsor, the class has made wonderful progress.

A thrilling social event of the year was the Hallowe'en Party held in the McKinley gym on October 16.

The unusual ability and merit of the illustrious class was satisfactorily demonstrated on the occasion of December 10, when the Junior play, "Come Out of the Kitchen," was presented with great success before a large audience.

The Juniors again proved their originality and wit, by winning for the second time the Purple "C" stunt contest.

And lastly came the Junior-Senior banquet, held at the Methodist Church, on April 22. This affair was elaborately carried out in the form of a Japanese Cherry Festival.

Thus ends two happy and successful years for the class of '28.

Class History

Draw up your chairs, and listen attentively while I tell you the past and present of the Sophomore Class.

First, let me make a confession—a sad one to the Seniors and a bitter one to the Juniors—a confession of a fact that is well known, but of which little is said. Take this as calmly as possible. The sophomore class is the best class that ever entered C. H. S. With this awful truth told, I can speak with a clear conscience.

Our first bit of good luck came to us when it was announced that Miss Macon was to be our sponsor. Maynard Downey was elected president by an “overwhelming majority,” as the papers say, and the class started on its trip through the high school.

The Seniors, who are pushed out of school every year because of their alleged intelligence, lectured long and wisely to the Sophs about school spirit, duty to the dear, old Alma Mater and on various other subjects concerning school life. We endured all this in silence, but our revenge came one day, when by some trick, the mighty seniors forgot themselves and helped elect one of our members, Howard Cronk, to the coveted position of school yell leader. Imagine it if you can, gentle reader, those impudent Sophomores breaking a school precedent.

The next thing we balcony decorators did was to stage a one act play, “A Sunny Morning, in Assembly.” Eloise Lambe and Richard O’Connor played the leading roles. Even the Juniors admitted that the performance was a good one and really worthy of their applause.

The next big event of the year was the Hallowe’en party given at the McKinley gymnasium. Please do not confuse it with inferior brands. This was the genuine article—a real party. Charles Edwards was crowned king of ancient sport of apple bobbing, breaking all national and international records for time and endurance.

In debate Mary Shrum and Maynard Downey, with the help of some of the members of the so called mighty classes, showed the rest of the valley that Coffeyville had a desire for another debate trophy; then captured the trophy.

The Sophomores were—you say I must close? But I haven’t finished telling about this illustrious class yet—well, remember one thing, the Sophomore Class is the best one in school. You don’t have to believe me—ask any one of them and you will get the same answer.

On January 24, 1927, sixty-four dusky maidens and young braves were recognized as a part of the C. H. S. tribe.

As we draped ourselves in the colors of the C. H. S. we set a standard which will be hard for a later class to equal.

As we entered on the new field of conquest, we were the subjects of much derision from the older and more experienced warriors, but since, by our courage and skill, we have proved that we are a valuable asset to the tribe.

Our class is represented in various school activities. Many of our number have played an important part in the Girl Reserves and Boys' Club. The music department has been furnished with much competent material. Some of the new arrivals have already shown great dramatic ability in several of our chapel programs.

Not only in these fields have we been active, but in class work we stand with the best, and we are endeavoring to reach successfully that coveted goal—graduation.

A Trip to the Photographer

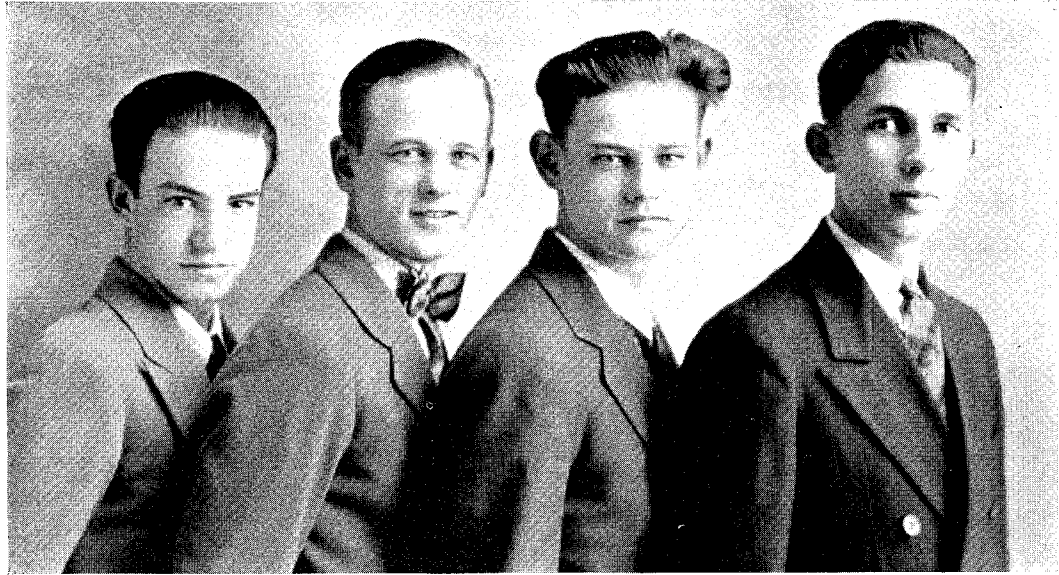

Here we are all spick and span,
Just as we looked to the photographer man,
Our ears are washed,
Our suits all pressed,
We all were trying to look our best,
With lipstick on,
With hair all waved,
No one knows what those poor girls braved,
We were all very scared,
We shook like a leaf,
And it was very pleasant, that our stay was brief,
Well, look us over,
We've done our best,
To you dear friend, we leave the rest.

Through the efforts of the sponsors and officers the programs, which were varied, were composed of talks from business men and students. The club has proved its need and may it be even a stronger organization next year.

The Girl Reserve, the most prominent Club for girls, was organized in the year 1923-1924 in the Coffeyville High School with a membership of forty girls. This organization has steadily grown until now the membership is one hundred thirty six.

The purpose of this club is to promote the growth of friendship, fellowship, love, and Christian understanding among the girls of the High School.

The club took for their slogan this year: "Put Others Before Yourself." We have tried to carry this out to the fullest extent, along with our National Slogan, "To Find And Give The Best."

The meetings have been held this year once a week at the last of fifth period. The topics of our years program have been on "Our Ideal Girl" and these have been very interesting. Outside speakers have given us talks that have proved beneficial.

One of our greatest undertakings this year was that of "The Mid-Winter Conference." Seventy of our girls attended the conference. It was held in Coffeyville on January 28, 29, and 30. It was a very successful meeting due to the help of the girls and the unceasing efforts of the sponsors of our club and the leaders from other organizations.

One outstanding social function this year was our Fourth Annual Mother-Daughter Tea, which was well attended.

We have carried out the Big Sister Movement, which all of the girls enjoyed and which proved very helpful to the younger ones.

The Girl Reserves aided the school very much by opening a book exchange at the beginning of each semester. They also took charge of the checking stand at Memorial Hall during Verdigris Valley Music Contest this year.

Although this year has been very successful, we sincerely wish that next year will be a more successful one for the club and that the new cabinet and new members will work to carry on the ideals of the club to a higher peak.

The year 1927 marks the organization of a chapter of the National Honor Society in the Coffeyville High School. To belong to this organization is the highest goal which a member of the high school can attain. A member must be in the upper one fourth of his class in grades and must possess the four fundamental virtues of the society; namely, scholarship, leadership, character and service. The members are chosen upon the recommendation of the faculty, the membership being limited to fifteen percent of the pupils in the graduating class, five percent of whom may be chosen in the second semester of the junior year and the remaining, chosen during the senior year.

The members of the class of 1927 who were initiated April 25 are: Clifton Cooper, Harrison Casey, Willye Sheehan, Mary K. Delaplaine, Betty Mahley, Willetta Ziegler, Wilma Reynolds, and Olivene Slater.

Wendall Koerner, Clement Hall and Ruth Whipple, members of the Junior Class were initiated May 10th.

Although the Dramatic Art Club is a new organization of our high school, it has already proved its need and value. Meetings are held the third Monday of each month. Much credit for the success of the interesting programs is due to the faithful work of the committee, Elizabeth Hahn, Howard Parsons and Robert Jamison. "The Trysting Place," and "Enter the Hero," two one-act plays under the direction of Geraldine Gunsenhouse were presented in chapel. These productions were not only entertaining but aided in creating enthusiasm for dramatics in the school.

If the club continues its present high standard, it will take its place among the other activities and be a real asset to the school.

El Espejo de Espana

For three years Coffeyville High School has had a Spanish Club. Senorita Mitchell has helped this club carry out successfully its purpose, which is to promote interest in the language, and customs of Spanish speaking people.

The famous Valencia chorus which won great praise from the whole school was made possible by this club. Who will ever forget those beautiful Spanish dancers at the C. H. S. annual carnival, January 14th?

The Club meetings are conducted in Spanish. The programs are very interesting and usually show some Spanish custom; such as Spanish music, songs, recitations, dancing and games. A Spanish play "La Lavandera de Napoleon" was given by the second year class and "Los Cambios de Pedro" was dramatized by the first year class.

In February, the club was delightfully entertained at the home of Jean Nunery. First-year students made their first appearance in the club, and enjoyed Spanish games, charades and songs with the older members.

In March, to celebrate Spanish Carnaval season there was a costume fiesta to which members of the College Club "Las Piratas" were invited. Room D was the scene of revelry and color. One interesting event was the breaking of the pinata which, according to Spanish custom, held gifts for all the guests. Prizes for the best costumes were given to Lucy Craig and Margaret Belt.

El Espejo de Espana has high hopes for the future, and the members desire their club to be a real addition to the social and intellectual life of Coffeyville High School.

The Coffeyville Senior High School Orchestra was formed in 1921, under the direction of Mr. A. Weatherly. Each year about twenty members of the orchestra finish school and that many more new ones enter in the fall. It must be remembered that the great aim for grade pupils who play some instrument, is to look forward to playing in the Orchestra when they arrive in the Senior High School.

The Orchestra has a fine library of standard music and has a full symphony instrumentation.

Some of the most known and difficult standard numbers, such as "Trancreed," "Obron," "Sermanamide," "Norma," "La Bohem," and "Barber of Seville," were played by the Orchestra.

On various occasions the Orchestra has furnished music for both school and local entertainment.

"ROBIN HOOD"

The standard opera "Robin Hood" by De Koven opened the Music Festival. It was presented Friday afternoon and evening, April 8, 1927 at the Memorial Auditorium. The afternoon performance was witnessed by a large crowd of school children who were allowed to attend only in the afternoon. They had studied the opera in classes of music appreciation and knew the origin of the opera. The evening performance was greatly enjoyed by the adults.

The opera is one of the most popular English operas, having been written in 1890. It has been produced more than 15,000 times and is always a favorite with the American people. A number of the familiar airs from the opera were "O Promise Me.," "Song of the Brown October Ale," "The Tinkers' Song," and "The Armorer's Song."

The Cast included the leading soloists in the schools and community, supported by a chorus of one hundred and fifty voices, from the mixed chorus of the senior high school and junior college and by the fifty piece civic orchestra.

Each year when an opera is presented during music week, there is always an equal opportunity for any individual wishing to take a part in the production. Leading parts were taken by the following:

ROBERT OF HUNTINGTON (later Robin Hood)	Mr. Frank Eaton, tenor
THE SHERIFF OF NOTTINGHAM	Mr. James Benefiel, baritone
SIR GUY	Warren McBride, tenor
LITTLE JOHN	Mr. Glen Truax, baritone
WILL SCARLETT	Mr. Jay W. Tracy, bass
FRIAR TUCK	Mr. Grover Mahley, bass
ALLEN DALE	Miss Dorothy George, alto
LADY MARIAN	Miss Irene Reid, soprano
DAME DURDEN	Reba Miller, soprano
ANNABEL	Mrs. Swan Highbaugh, soprano

The school has been very fortunate in having among its instructors a number of excellent vocalists taking leading parts in this local production. A number of the characters of the cast have had exceptional experience along this line of work.

The chorus was made up of villagers, milk-maids, outlaws, foresters, archers and tinkers.

DEBATE

The question sent out by the Kansas High School Debating League was "Resolved, That a Department of Education should be established with a secretary in the President's Cabinet."

At the beginning of the second six weeks of school, all the English classes took up debating and much enthusiasm was aroused. In due time each high class had its representatives working hard to prepare themselves for the final tryout for places on the school team. Seventeen people survived this test: Mae Gillespie, Margaret Pine, Mary Shrum, Wendell Koerner, Albert Wilson, Viola Byers, Curtis Ball, Albert Robertson, Clement Hall, Eleanor Mitchell, Harrison Casey, Maynard Downey, Steven Ellis, Ruth Brainard, Lorene Twedell, Martha Hare, and Louis Kleiss.

With the assistance of the coaches, Miss Weaver and Miss Cubine, the speeches were carefully worked out and mastered by these would-be-winners.

Those chosen to represent C. H. S. in the first debate were Wendell Koerner, Mary Shrum and Mae Gillespie on the affirmative, while Clement Hall, Eleanor Mitchell, and Maynard Downey upheld the negative.

In the first triangular debate, the Coffeyville Negative teams met Caney at home and the affirmative went to Independence. Both teams were very

Ball	Hare	Twedell	Kleiss	Brainard	Weaver	Casey
	Belt	Ellis	Cubine	Wilson	Pine

fortunate, winning from Caney 3 - 0 and from Independence 2 - 1. The second triangular debate called our negative team to Fredonia and our affirmative met Neodesha. Again the affirmative team won the decision 3 - 0, but the negative was outclassed by Fredonia and was defeated 2 - 1. This loss, although it might have been discouraging for the teams, only served as an encouragement for them to try to improve.

At this point Independence, Fredonia and Coffeyville were tied for championship of the Verdigris Valley. On February 9th the final debate came with our affirmative team meeting Fredonia at home and our negative going to Independence.

Much to the delight of the Coffeyville teams and to the school they won from Fredonia 3 - 0 and from Independence 2 - 1. These decisions gave Coffeyville the Verdigris Valley Championship.

This, however, did not complete the debate work. Members of the teams who had not had the opportunity to debate in the Valley clashes, were taken to Sedan to meet their teams in a practise debate.

On February 23, there was another interesting event of the debate season. On this date the championship of the third district was to be decided. The Coffeyville negative team defeated the Frontenac affirmative 2 - 1, while the Coffeyville negative lost to Chanute 2 - 1, thus giving Chanute the district championship.

The school and the debaters are grateful to Miss Cubine and Miss Weaver, for much of the success in debate was due to their efforts.

The Coffey Kan, a school paper is published bi-monthly and is distributed free to all the students of the city schools. Although the paper is edited by members of the staff from the high school and Junior College, it does not confine its interests to those two schools, but gives space to the grade schools and Junior High. This has been a very successful year for the paper and it has lived up to one of its aims, a Coffey Kan in every home in Coffeyville.

Just Another One

Once upon a time a little boy was sitting in the Koerner meditating on what he should do and all at once he fell asleep and dreamed. He got up and crossing the Hall went Forth into the fresh Ayer(s). First he met a Young farmer who told how Green his Akers and how beautiful his Orchard were in the Summer. The next person he met was a lady who asked him to go with her; she took him to a Kitchen where she proved herself a good Cook and Baker by Fry(ing) Bacon and Baking Corn. This lady said her husband was a Fisher and somewhat of a Bowman, for he Love(d) to fish for Bass in the Poole. After eating, the boy felt Armstrong and whom should he meet but a Miller, who asked the boy to play Ball and because the boy Stahl(ed) the man took off his Belt and began to Lash him. Just then a Plummer came up and insisted upon telling of Forrests where there were Pine and Hazelwood trees and a new kind of Harwood. This man talked of Wood(s) until his head looked Woody so the boy decided he should Dye and began to dig a Grave(s) for him. Then he threw some Irons at the man and the last word the man ever uttered was Sherwood! The boy now began to Passmore people and finally he encountered a very Polite Porter who looked White and Haggard. He told of a Goldburg in Holland, his native land where even, in the Ise of the winter, the Parkers kept a pretty Mock Park(s) where Noble Heslops bloomed. Next the boy heard a Bell and followed the sound. He soon found himself at a Church. Upon looking around, his eyes fell on a Penn and he started to write in the Clay. He wanted to write a story about a Grey Fox and a Crow fighting a Brown Hare and a Lamb. After deciding that he was not much of a Reiter, he went to Cort. There he listened to a Case dealing about the production of Moore Cole. Finally he became very hot and tired so he went home and sitting in a Morris chair with a Downey pillow at his head he drank some Sour-Beer. This brought him to his senses and all at once he awoke and found he was none the worse for his Gamble in dreamland.

Senior Class Will

We, the class of 1927, being of sound mind, do ordain this our last will and testament. We wish to display our unselfishness, so do hereby give, devise, and bequeath our estates and property, real and personal in the following manner:

*First---*To the Faculty we leave our heart-felt sympathy at the loss of such a noble and brilliant class. They have our consolation, for the oncoming class lacks so in the elements of dignity which goes to make up the normal senior.

*Second---*To the Juniors we leave the right to occupy our most exclusive section in the auditorium and the use of our yells.

*Third---*To the Sophomores we leave the encouragement for the duties they have yet to perform and our sympathy for having to be bossed by the Juniors.

*Fourth---*To our loyal and faithful sponsor, Mrs. Price we leave our deepest appreciation for goodness and kindness to us.

*Fifth---*To the following individuals we leave our valued personal belongings.

To Raymond McNabney we leave Chet Benefiel's great athletic ability.

To Margaret Belt we give Nina Haddan's exotic airs.

To Virginia Ritter, Wilma Watkins donates some grown-up ways and dignity.

Viola Byers presents to Vivian Seligsberg her lectures on economy.

Fat Lindsay gives his surplus to Carl Belt.

Joe Wallingford unselfishly leaves his recipe for bluffing to Wendell Koerner.

Ruth Young leaves her vamping disposition to Evelyn Yeubanks.

Clifton Cooper leaves his ability to become a member of the National Honor Society to Paul Bryant.

To Josephine Daeschner, Margaret Koehne leaves her pep and ability to take a dare.

Willeta Ziegler's quiet ways are bestowed on Elizabeth Hahn.

Dorothy Kirby's child-like innocence is granted to Claudia Mahley.

Betty Mahley regretfully leaves her speed on the typewriter to Dorothy Jordan.

Carl Fancher's love for Miss Cubine is intrusted to Orlin Poole.

Bill Morgan leaves his studious disposition and his ability to get excused permits to Gene Carns.

Last, we appoint our honored sponsor Mrs. Price as the sole executor of this our last will and testament.

In witness hereof this twenty-eighth of May, in the year nineteen hundred twenty-seven, we hereto set our seal and signature.

Senior Class Prophecy

The scene is the camp of the Kaintoose Indians; the occasion, a tribal reunion and council of the older chiefs, courageous young braves, and the aged Medicine Man.

"O, Mighty Medicine Man," pleaded the chiefs, "can you pierce the future for the illustrious Class of '27 in C. H. S.?"

"Why do you want to know of a graduating class of Kansas?" quired the Medicine Man.

"Because of their daring exploits and nation-wide fame. Their braves are among the most noble; their squaws among the most patient. Tell us! Tell Us!"

The Medicine Man consented. Lifting his wrinkled face to the east, he prayed to the Great Spirit for aid. After a moment of supplication, a flash, a roar, and a rumble were heard. From the heavens came a deep sonorous voice.

"Kaintoose Chiefs and braves, thy wish shall be granted. To you will I reveal the future of the Class of '27."

"First is Marie White. This young lady will hold the position of Dean of Girls in Honolulu High School, Hawaii.

"Ella Cole and Mamie Leib will conduct an Old Maids Reunion, which Margaret Sourbeer, Freona Moore, Thelma Kendricks, Margaret Reiter, and Elsie Brecht will attend.

"Harold Burris will be the Keeper of the Zoo in Swope Park, Kansas City. His assistant, who roasts peanuts for the elephants, will be Augusta Erne.

"Bernice Bain will privately instruct the children of Willye Ehart, Gladys McLeran and Wilma Richardson.

"The Schell Brothers and Reynolds Sisters are destined to be famous acrobatic performers in the Mammoth Robertson and Tweedie Circus.

"Faye Roberts and Madeline Forth will run a tea-shop for cow boys. Frequent patrons will be Fred Gentner, Cloyce Forrest, Dwight Akers, and Curtis Ball.

"Mark Ehart's Jazz Orchestra will contract for the McCullough Brothers' Broadcasting Station in Iceland for three continuous years of playing."

Suddenly the Voice faltered, and rumbled into the distance. The chiefs looked at each other in alarm. Surely this wasn't all. No, for the Voice spoke again as suddenly as it had ceased.

"A noble brave, Donald McLeran will be employed as foreman on the Canadian ranch of Mary K. Delaplaine. Miss Warner, a life long friend, will make her home with Mary K.

"Little Addie Penn and Norma Dickey will give advice to 'Lovelorn' in the Dearing Tattler.

"Ruth Wintrode and Mae Gillespie will be found as 'preferred chaperones' of the Dew Drop Inn, London, England. The Honorable Darlene Weiland owns the notorious Inn.

"Oneta Hoffman is making a trip around the world lecturing on "The Art of Licking Postage Stamps.

"Geraldine Gunsenhouser will make comedies for Mack Sennett.

"Thelma Renner and Nina Haddan will ride burros all over Pikes Peak looking for a Bird's-eye view of a Gold Mine.

Wilda Corts and Ladine Hackney are to receive a Carnegie Medal for heroism. With a biscuit made by Ladine, Wilda killed a bear, that had entered a country school.

"And Dorothy Aitken is to make records for the "Screech and Groan" record company.

"Beautiful Ruth Irons is destined to be the most popular actress on Broadway. Her popularity will doubtless be due to the fact that 'Gentlemen prefer Blondes'.

"Harry Royer will own the largest ostrich farm in the world, making a specialty of hand-painted eggs. Egg gatherers will be Hazel Alderman, Madeline Bartlett, John Heath, Edward Robey and Carey Hall.

"Thomas Stanley, owing to a disappointed love affair, will always be a confirmed bachelor.

"Louis Schwinn will be a Professor of Bugology in Moscow University.

Here the Voice paused again. The chief, with bated breath sat fearful that the Great Spirit had finished. But the story once more resumed.

"Bill Boehm is to gain fame by coaching a football team in the Sandwich Islands.

"Olive Tongier, the latest movie find, will play opposite the matinee idol, Clarence Neese, in 'Kiss Me Again.'

Willard Ewbank will be found running a fishing schooner on the Verdigris River.

"Verna Bixby and Margaret O'Connel will own a theatre in Liberty. The famous 'Wallingford and Morgan Follies' will be a featured attraction. The 'Follies' chorus will consist of the following: Glida Thomason, Evelyn Summers, Juanita Menefee, 'Sid' Fulmer, Goldena Shannon, Georgia Geddes, and Deloris Balitz.

The remaining braves and squaws will be playing the roles of American husbands and wives. The majority will be happy with their children to provide for and a little home to call their own."

A low rumble of thunder and a flash of lightning marked the end of the story. The Great Spirit had finished his task of telling the future of that noble Class of '27.

Trail of The Tribes

September:

- 10th—The first council. A new tribe enters, they are overwhelmed by the majesty of the older tribes.
21st—All tribes hold a pow-wow to select chiefs for the coming year. Chet Benefiel was chosen chief of the superior tribe.

October:

- 16th—Junior tribe opens season with war dance at McKinley Gym.
20th—Indian Maiden Council upholds the Blue Triangle. Bernice Bain acts as the chairman of the Indian Maidens.
22nd—The papoose tribe holds its first celebration, which was a very delightful occasion.
28th—C. H. S. -vs- Neodesha—Our braves win 12 - 0.

November:

- 25th—Annual Thanksgiving Day skirmish at Independence. Great celebration held in our camp over the victory, 38 - 0.

December:

- 10th—"Come Out of the Kitchen," production by Junior Tribe. Ruth Whipple demonstrates the theory that "Cooking wins the man."
17th—Christmas vacation begins. No comments necessary.

January:

- 1st—"Eat, play, and be merry," for tomorrow we go back to school.
14th—Carnival! Kenneth Lindsay, Ted Taylor and Cotton Winston starred in their acts.
18th—Chapel. Gravy Davis appears in a new war dance, the charleston.
26th—Some of the bravest warriors of the tribes win for C. H. S. the Verdigris Valley Debate Championship.

March:

- 24th—Why Girls leave for Baker—the Baker Boys' Glee Club sing in chapel.
28th—Coffeyville is the scene of the Verdigris Valley Music Contest. We win two places but Neodesha wins more. Anyway, we beat 'em in football.
29th—Nina Haddan shows Indian Maids a new style or haircut. Great discovery! Girls have ears.

April:

- 3rd—Everybody found a dime and went to chapel to see "The Trysting Place."
8th - 14th—Music Week. The opera "Robin Hood" is a great success.
15th—Dramatic club presents "Makers of Dreams" in chapel.
22nd—A Japanese flower garden makes a beautiful scene for the annual feast. Congratulations Juniors! We find you are good entertainers as well as annual sellers.
28th - 30th—Fal-De-Ral. Big time for all. Whe hope president Coolidge finds out what he missed.

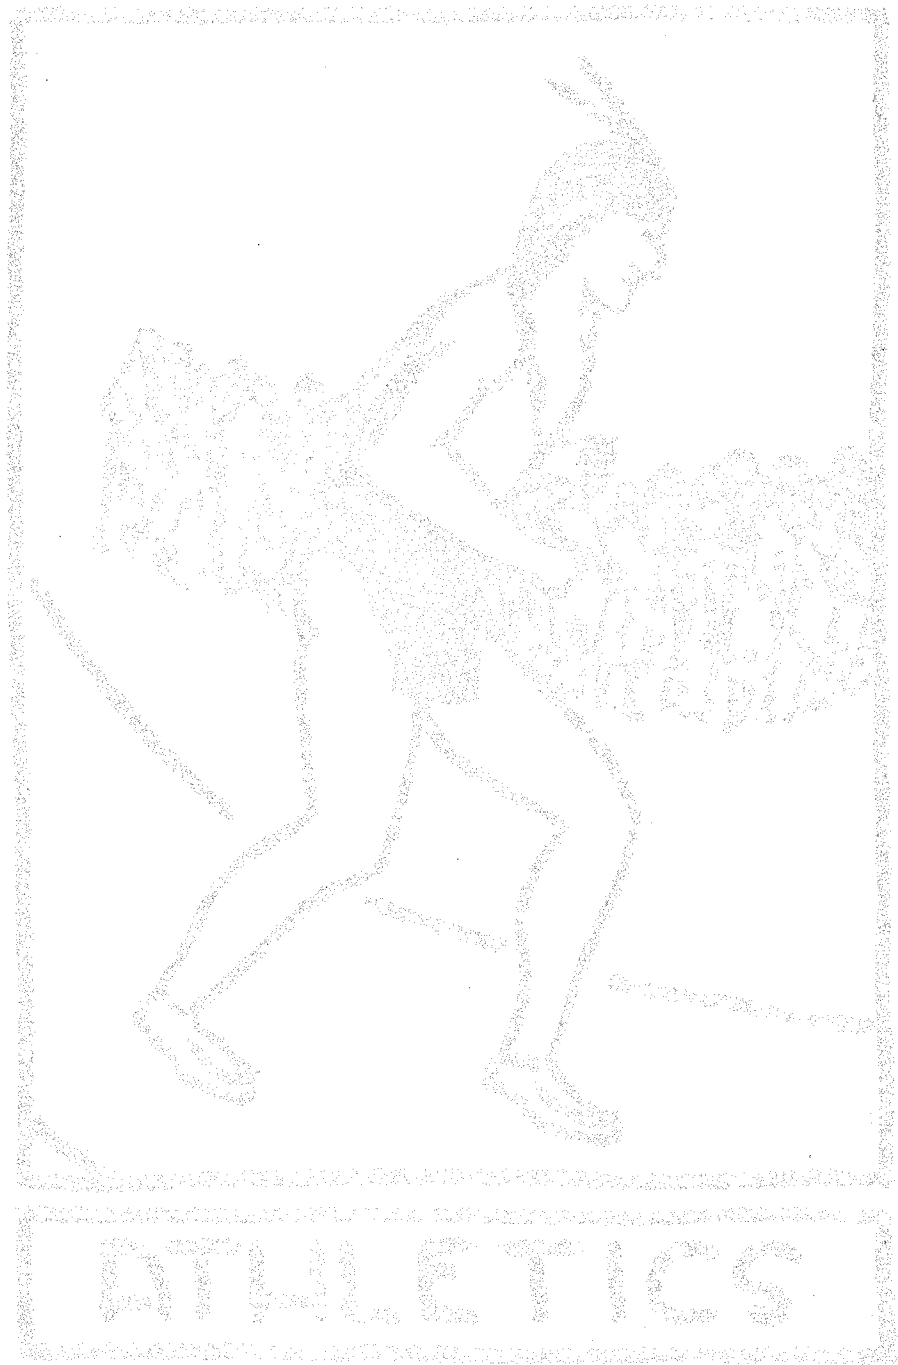

May:

- 6th—Senior tribe presents annual play, "The Importance of Being Earnest."
20th—"Put away Class Colors," says Chieftain Bass. Big picnic at Forrest Park.
22nd—Baccalaureate. All attend in best attire.
30th—The final pow-wow—graduation. Bill Boehm was included.

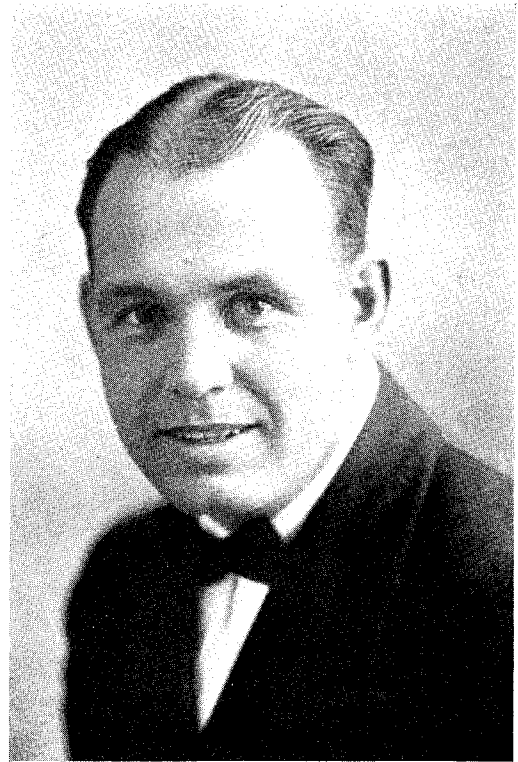

The Junior - Senior Banquet of 1926 was held in the Sunflower Room of the Hotel Dale on the evening of May 14th. The event was very delightfully carried out in the form of an Indian Pow-Wow.

Arthur D. Kahler, coach of athletics, has completed two very successful years in Coffeyville High School. Previous to the time he came here, he coached two years at Lyons, Kansas.

During the time that Coach Kahler has been with this high school, we have had one championship football team, two championship basketball teams, and have strong hopes for a winning track team this year.

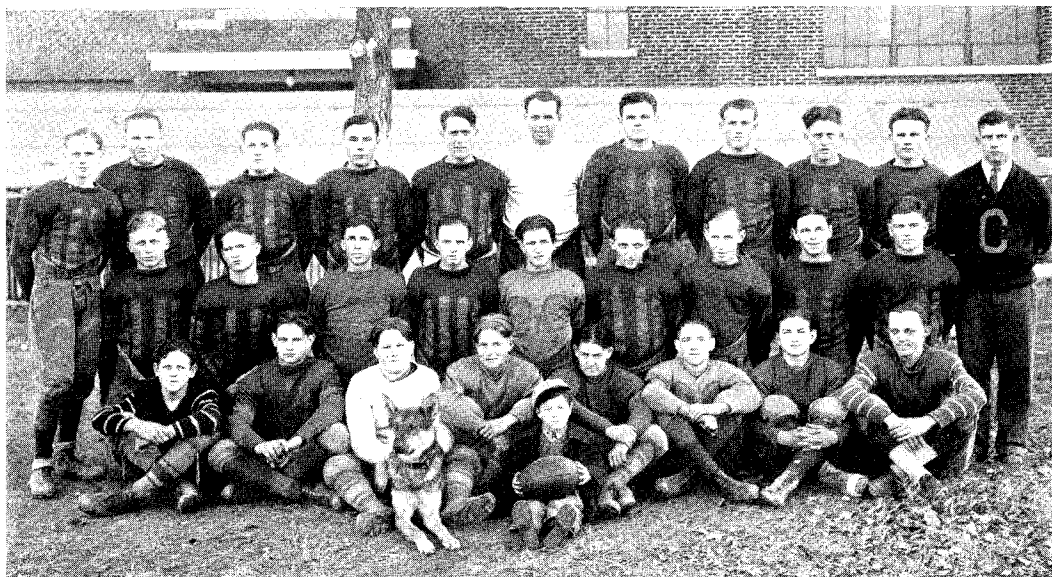

MR. ARTHUR D. KAHLER

MR. WILLIAM J. CAVANAUGH

Mr. William J. Cavanaugh, head of the commercial department of the high school came here from Chanute, where he had taught for three years. He was appointed secretary of the athletic association and has rendered invaluable service. Although Mr. Cavanaugh has been connected with this school a short time he has shown great interest and has been a great help in all the activities of the school. Mr. Cavanaugh is a graduate of the Kansas Teachers College of Emporia.

FOOTBALL

When the call was issued for football candidates, seventy-five men reported for practice. Of this number, seven were regulars on last year's team. After Coach Kahler had seen these athletes in action, he was very enthusiastic over the possibilities of designing a team that stood for victory.

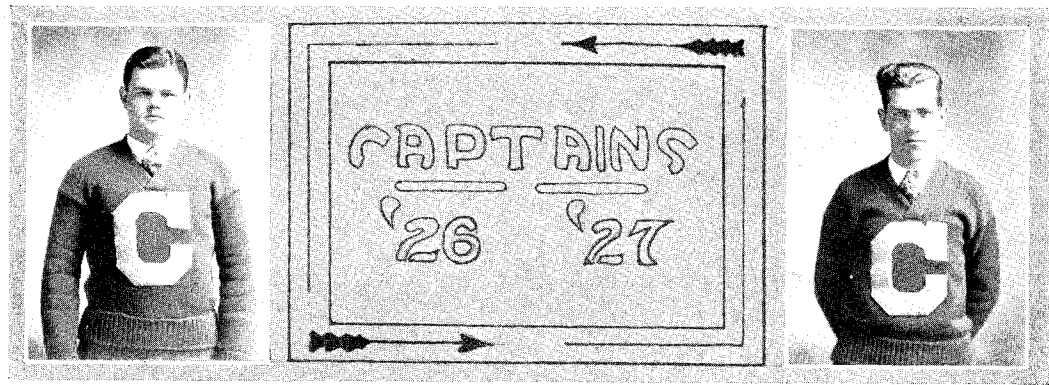

The opening game of the season was played with Neodesha. The field was muddy, but overcoming this handicap, the Purple and Gold Gridsters handed Neodesha a 12 - 0 defeat. Continuing on through the season, the C.H.S. football team, by a tally of eight victories and no defeats, established a record that will be hard to equal.

On Thanksgiving Day, Coffeyville, met Independence in their annual Turkey Day tilt. By defeating Independence in this battle, Coffeyville won the Verdigris Valley Championship and tied for first place in the Big Seven League.

At all the games, either at home or on foreign fields, the team was loyally supported. The success of the team was not due to the team alone, but also to their coach, Mr. Kahler, who has shown great interest in the team and in the welfare of the school.

At the close of a successful football season came basketball. More than twenty men reported for training. Of this group, six had won letters on Coffeyville High School quintets in previous years. They were Billie Boehm, Chester Benefiel, Hugh Garvin, Gene Carnes, Peter Gallagher, and Harold Truax.

The first game of the season was played at Fredonia. It was a hard fought battle resulting in a 22 - 17 victory for the Coffeyville quintet. This defeat only inspired them to work harder in their struggle for championship.

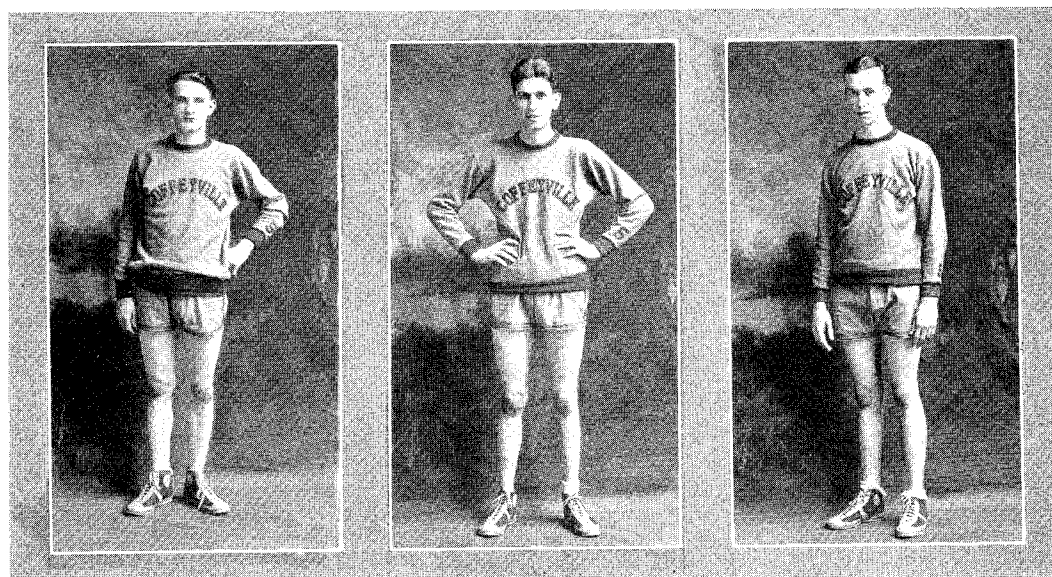

With only three defeats during the season, Coffeyville tied with Pittsburg for championship of the Big Seven League but lost the Valley Championship by a margin of one game.

TRACK

About thirty men reported to Coach Kahler when he issued his first call for track, of these, Chester Benefiel, Donald Thrasher, Pete Gallagher, Damon Mountford and Bill Boehm were veterans.

A dual meet was held at Nowata, April 9. Coffeyville was victorious by a 73 - 61 score. Bill Boehm was high point man with a score of twenty-three on four firsts and a tie for second. The meet was held on a muddy field, but in spite of the conditions the athletes turned in some creditable performances. April 22th, Boehm, Thrasher, Downey and Peter Gallagher attended the K.U. Relays where Boehm won the hundred yard dash. A week later the same boys with addition of Mountford went to Winfield for the South-Western Invitation Meet. Boehm again won the hundred yard dash, making it in 9.8 seconds. He also placed in several other events.

The Verdigris Valley Meet is scheduled for May 13th at Fredonia. Coffeyville expects to make a strong bid for the Championship of the Valley.

Dear Sir,

2. What is the purpose of the study?

The figure is a scatter plot titled "Fig. 6". The vertical axis (y-axis) is labeled "Number of children per woman at birth" and has major tick marks at 0, 2, 4, 6, and 8. The horizontal axis (x-axis) is labeled "Percentage of women who are literate" and has major tick marks every 10 units from 0 to 100. Numerous data points are scattered across the plot, representing different countries. There is a clear negative correlation: as the percentage of literate women increases, the average number of children per woman tends to decrease. For example, countries with low literacy rates (below 20%) have fertility rates mostly above 4 children per woman, while countries with high literacy rates (above 70%) have fertility rates mostly below 2 children per woman.

Figure 2 consists of two histograms, (a) and (b), showing the distribution of the number of nodes in the network. Histogram (a) is titled 'number of nodes' and has a y-axis labeled 'frequency' ranging from 0 to 100. The x-axis is labeled 'number of nodes' and ranges from 0 to 1500. The distribution is unimodal and slightly right-skewed, with a peak frequency of approximately 90 at around 1000 nodes. Histogram (b) is also titled 'number of nodes' and has a y-axis labeled 'frequency' ranging from 0 to 100. The x-axis is labeled 'number of nodes' and ranges from 0 to 1500. The distribution is unimodal and slightly right-skewed, with a peak frequency of approximately 90 at around 1000 nodes.

"Man am I grown, a man's work must I do."

The fall of 1926 found the court of C. J. C. buzzing with the laughter and jabber of the loyal Sophomores determined to be first in everything for the progress of Junior College. An able group of officers were chosen to aid Miss Steininger, a most willing sponsor, in guiding the class through the year's work. This has been a wonderful year for C. J. C. and through out its entirety the Sophomores have labored unsparingly. Members of the class have taken part in every college activity willingly, and to the credit of all. In football, basketball, glee club, orchestra, debate, declamation, the clubs, and the college plays, the Sophomores have always done their share for the glory of C. J. C. In the fall the Freshmen and the faculty were entertained by a carnival in the McKinley gym and in February the Sophomores again extended their hospitality with a most delightful Valentine's dance.

At the close of two most happy years of college life the Sophomores come to their graduation from C. J. C. with many regrets for the things which they have left undone, with sadness at the separation which must come, with a deep sense of appreciation and gratitude to the faculty who have given so much of their time and talent, and with a feeling of pride in the accomplishments of this, the largest class to be graduated from C. J. C.

Freshmen

"Good mother holds me still a child."

A group of about eighty of the choice bits of greenery to be found in this section of Kansas entered the portals of C. J. C. last fall. When they had become duly acquainted with their surroundings they were organized as the Freshman Class, under the able sponsorship of Miss Ruth Perkins, of the college faculty. They have taken an active part in all college affairs contributing players to the football and basketball teams, members to the orchestra and glee club, and to such other organizations as the Y. W. C. A., Thalian Club, French and Spanish Clubs, Math Club and the Annual Staff. Three of the members of this class were on the debate team and a large number took part in both of the college plays.

On of the most delightful social events of the year was a dance and card party given by the Freshmen in the McKinley gym in honor of the sophomores and the faculty. As usual, the most outstanding event of the year was the annual college banquet with which the Freshmen entertained the graduating class and faculty on May 9th, at the Dale Hotel.

At the close of one of the most successful years of C. J. C. the Freshmen look back with a feeling of pride at their part in making it so and look forward to the coming year with a determination to make C. J. C. a more important factor in the life of the community.

Football

Our Junior College football team had a successful year and showed marked improvement over the team of the previous year when C. J. C. made its initial appearance in the Kansas Junior College Conference. With eight letter men at the first practice together with the instructions of the competent Coach Arthur Kahler, the prospects of a successful season were very bright. The team was also strengthened by eight new members, all of whom had had previous experience ranging from one to four years on the gridiron.

The boys worked faithfully under Coach Kahler, who soon developed them into a shifty, hard charging, sure tackling, and a "scrap 'em to the finish" team of which Coffeyville was justly proud. We started the season by defeating Miami School of Mines team in a hard fought contest. We did well in the Junior College Conference, winning two and tying two games, which gave us fourth place in the final standing.

We are exceedingly proud of the fine showing which our boys made with regard to the Mythical All Junior College Elevens and the Honorable Mention roll of the Conference. Dillon and Drake were placed on the Mythical First eleven; Kesler, Romig, Belt and Fitzpatrick made the Mythical Second team, and George and Charlesworth received honorable mention.

Basketball

The Junior College can justly claim a successful season in Basketball, although we did not win the conference title. With an abundance of seasoned athletes a fast and smooth working machine with "crack shot" forwards and "stone wall" guards, was developed by Coach Arthur Kahler. The boys fought with the old C. J. C. spirit every minute of each game, and though victory was not always ours the team constantly kept its opponents in fear by furious attacks and speed.

Jerold Bell was awarded a forward position on the All-Star Junior College Conference team, while Miller, Schleicher, and Dillon were all given honorable mention. Also in the Coffeyville City Basketball League we were tied for championship with the High School quintet. However, in a three game play-off series we won the first game but lost the two remaining games.

The Y. W. C. A. as an organization stands for the promotion of friendship, co-operation, and Christian understanding among the girls of Coffeyville Junior College.

The discussions, talks and demonstrations which made up the programs for this year, have centered around a very interesting theme, Our College Girl and Her Problems. The lessons have been thoughtfully prepared and well presented.

It has been the aim of the Y. W. C. A. to create a friendly social relationship among the different girls of the college.

A large measure of the success of the organization is due to the enthusiasm and able direction of the general advisor, Miss Adah Luman, and the advisors of the other divisions of the club work.

Thalian Club

The Thalian Club was organized by those students interested in play reading, play study, and anything pertaining to the drama.

New members are admitted to the club after a tryout before the old members. The club this year numbered about thirty.

Under the leadership of Mr. Diggs, several new projects have been put under way. The club has operated a second hand book exchange which has been very helpful and convenient.

The Thalian Club is presenting two five dollar awards this year to the best all round students, a girl and a boy, to be chosen by the faculty.

The club has put on a play, "The Girl to Order," the proceeds from which were used to have copies of the school song printed, which were then sold to the student body.

The meetings this year have been very enjoyable. One evening the club and the cast of "Within the Law" were entertained by Mr. and Mrs. Diggs with a lovely party. The last meeting, also attended by the cast of "Seven Keys to Baldpate" and "Within the Law," was a theatre party.

Mathematics Club

The Math Club was organized last year for the purpose of arousing an interest in mathematics outside the regular course prescribed for class work. The Club has been the means of giving recreation and enjoyment to many students. The programs made the club members realize for the first time that mathematics has other characteristics than the requirement of hard work. Even radicals improve on acquaintance and the dependability of the laws governing determinants has restored our faith in the answers the book gave. Aside from their practical uses, the Club found numbers lent themselves to clever stunts and tricks, which proved as entertaining as any party games imaginable.

The Math Club has been one of the most active organizations of the College. Meetings have been held every two weeks in the mathematics room. The programs consisted of the solution of problems, study of the history of mathematics, and mathematical games and stunts. Each meeting included a social hour at which time refreshments were served.

Among the social events of special interest, mention might be made of the Christmas Party, the George Washington Party as a welcome to members entering the Club at the second semester, and the annual Math Club Dinner, given at the Boys' Camp.

Les Causeurs Français

The French Club was organized this year by the French Department sponsored by Miss Perkins. Its purpose is to create an interest in France and its customs, and so far as possible the conversation is carried on in French. The meetings have been enjoyed by a membership of about twenty-five.

The program this year has been varied, and has covered a wide field. It has ranged over reviews of French opera and French drama. The members presented two plays, "Le Medicin Malgre Lui," by Moliere, and "L 'Anglais tel qu'on le Parle," by Bernard.

The club meetings were brought to a close by a banquet, at which the decorations were typically French, and at which toasts in French were given.

All in all, the year has been profitable and enjoyable and the French Club will surely be a permanent organization of C. J. C.

“Seven Keys to Baldpate”

“Seven Keys to Baldpate,” a mysterious melodramatic farce in a prologue, two acts and an epilogue, written by George M. Cohen, was presented by the Coffeyville Junior College on November 1. Swift action and exciting situations in the well developed plot gave the characters a chance to show their ability and training.

“Within the Law”

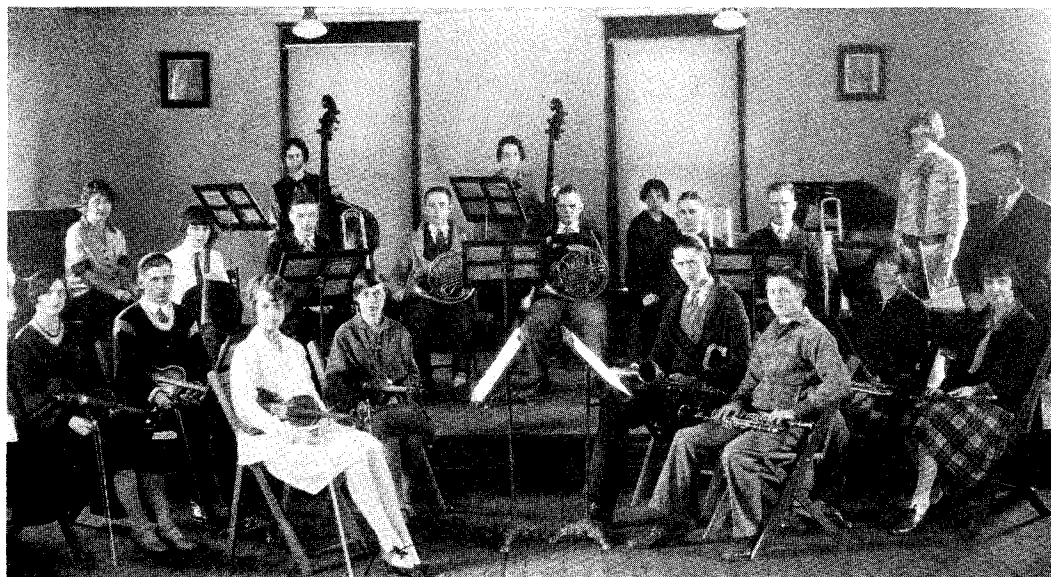

On March 28 the Coffeyville Junior College presented “Within the Law,” a melodrama in four acts, written by Bayard Veiller. Though the play was very heavy, the characters were well cast and played the difficult roles with remarkable ease. Clever lines, an interesting plot, and splendid coaching combined to make it a most successful production.

Orchestra

"O birds, that warble in the morning sky, O birds that warble as the day goes by."

The Junior College Orchestra is one of the most prominent activities of the Coffeyville Junior College and has played on numerous occasions including college assemblies, banquets, church programs, and music week programs.

Besides the regular three rehearsals each week which are devoted to playing the standard overtures and other classical compositions, one day each week the members are taught the art of conducting so that in the event that they may be called upon to take over such an organization, they will be prepared to manage and conduct one.

The orchestra is most ably conducted by Professor A. Weatherly.

At one of the early rehearsals Keith Stein was elected business manager of the organization.

GIRLS' GLEE CLUB

An addition to the school activities was made this year when a Girls' Glee Club was organized which meets Tuesday and Thursday of each week to enjoy an hour of group singing. Mr. Weatherly directs the organization.

COLLEGE MIXED CHORUS

A mixed chorus was formed by Director Weatherly during the last semester. This organization took an active part in the opera "Robin Hood" which was given April 8.

Java Jester Staff

The Staff has endeavored to collect for this volume of the "Java Jester" all the interesting bits of college life so that in after years it will bring to you a perfect picture of the numerous activities and wonderful friends that made up the Coffeyville Junior College.

The Court of King Arthur has been used as the central theme. An effort has been made to catch the quaint beauty and wonderful idealism of the Round table, by using appropriate art work, style of writing, quotations, and old English printing. For the quotations used as subtitles we are indebted to "The Idylls of the King," by Alfred Lord Tennyson.

For the splendid co-operation and interest of Mr. Bass, our advisor, the faculty, and the student body, who have combined to make possible the publication of this annual, we wish to express our grateful appreciation.
