Passive voice

After the Super Bowl the winning quarterback was asked by a reporter how he felt. This is what he said: "Well, you work hard all year and you train every day. Of course you hope for something like this, but you know that it's just a dream, and then you win lots of games, but only because you have great teammates, and you are really happy. But you aren't prepared for a day like this. You wake up and you know that this is the most important day in your life and you think that you have a chance to win, but you can't be too sure, so you pray. And you play your best and hope that you win. And when you win, it's the most wonderful thing you've ever felt in your life, and when you're asked point-blank how you feel, you completely whitewash the whole thing and speak in the passive voice."
