Oh no! Someone is at the door. I'm looking through the window. It doesn't look like anyone that I know. It's possible that it's a politician, but it's more likely that it's a salesperson. Or maybe it's UPS. No—they always carry packages. Maybe it's the florist with a bouquet of flowers for me. No—they always have flowers. I don't know who this person can be. Maybe it's Publishers' Clearing House because I've won ten million dollars. No—they always have that giant check. I'm not going to open the door. I hope the intruder will go away.
